

HAPPY

HOLIDAYS

Greetings from Pat and Sandy

2020 has been a year like nothing we have experienced before. All plans were canceled because of Covid-19. Sandy's eyesight has deteriorated to the point that she can no longer see faces and she will start taking classes at the Blind Center in January. She scoots around in her tripod walker to prevent falls. We made reservations for our Hawaii trip in February and didn't know until October if we could go and managed to go at the end of November.

Our church has been online since March and we take communion using a chalice Pat made in 1973.

So we have been doing many exciting things during our stay at home such as making animals out of our evening pills.

Some of the gym instructors have put together a Facebook group called Sirius Turbo Jam and they teach online classes. Mike, one of the instructors got Pat involved in another online venue called Group Fitness Live, so Pat has kept up with her classes. The class members sent Pat a fruit bouquet for her 82nd birthday.

Sandy is still active in her button club and Pat has set up a Zoom account that the San Diego Button club uses for its monthly meetings.

Pat is still president of the House of Sweden. Balboa Park has been closed and we are limited to Zoom and other online activities.

online activities.

Pat managed to attend the San Diego Opera before the state was locked down last spring.

We had a wonderful 2 weeks in Hawaii and met with our good friends.

People waiting at Costco after California shut down again this week